

Algorand Platform - smart contracts architecture

Overall integrations

System components as well as external components are given at the component diagram below. By external components we mean components which should be used from the ecosystem and not developed by us.

Some information about class structure and behaviour is given on the UML component below:

smart contracts architecture

